West Singhbhum is primarily an agrarian district. However, agriculture is most subsistence oriented and not able to sustain the House Holds dependent on it. Lack of Irrigation facility is one of the main reasons for the under development of agriculture in the district. West Singhbhum is mainly fall under non command area. Ground water sources like dug well and surface water sources like river/rivulets are the main source of Irrigation in the district. Development of Ground water sources such as dug well and Pond is expensive and highly unsustainable due to hard rock formation. Due to lack of Infrastructure & technology among Farmer District Administration has specially thought to develop the Agricultural Infrastructure for Hi-tech Integrated Farming along with Assured Irrigation System.

The farmers in general and small holders in particular are going through severe crisis in India now. Being a poorer state and with 90 percentage of small and marginal farmers. Average land holding of the marginal farmers is 0.5 ha which has reduced over the years. At the same time productivity is also low against the standard (both national standard and potential standard of best performing state). The cost of farming is increasing exponentially with the increased quantity and price of inputs (such as seed, water, fertilizer and pesticides) without any significant change in productivity and price of produces.
