SALIENT FEATURES

Historical Background about the District :

KARUR district was carved out from the erstwhile Thiruchirapalli district. It occupies a very significant place in the history and culture of the Tamils, with a record of achievements spanning over a period of 2000 years. Epigraphical, Numismatic, Archeological and literary evidences have proved beyond doubt that Karur was the capital of the Chera Kings of the Sangam age around First century to Seventh century. The people of this region came into very close contact with ancient Romans and had regular commerce with them, which enriched the life style of the people of this region, and also enabled them to imbibe certain interesting features from the foreign trade partners.

The strategic location of Karur has been one of the reasons for its ready-rise through the centuries. The important roads and trade routes from the Pandya Capital Madurai and Chola Capital Thanjavur linked Karur with the Kongu Nadu (Coimbatore, Erode region) and connected the same to the west coast and to the trade ambassadors from the distant Roman and European countries. The merchants from Rome who came to the West coast soon made a bee line to Karur to expand their trade and commerce. Several hoards of silver and gold coins of Augustus Tiberius dated 37 A.D. and over 5000 coins of the later Roman period in copper and bronze had been located in and around between the 3rd and 5th century by way of trade and commerce.
